6th Tank Completed

New 66,000-gallon, in-ground water tank at Nyamware

Our June newsletter reviewed progress on the water tank at Nyamware Secondary School. In September, the tank was completed. During the rainy season, the system collects runoff piped from the roofs of the school buildings.

Headmaster William Ombati shared his observations on the project: "The tank has already had a very deep impact on the community!"

Even the surrounding people are making use of it! The official launch of the tank was on 30th September by our sub-county director of education. He registered appreciation on behalf of the Government of Kenya, and particularly the ministry of education, for the funding of a mega water project in the county. Thank you so much for this important gift that will really improve quality of life in this area!"

Thank you for the prayers and kindness that enabled us to share this gift of clean water with Kenyan students and their families.
